

TCC and TECBAR 2020 Construction Conference In Bristol

The interface between Part 8, adjudication and injunctive relief

Keynote Speaker: HHJ Russen QC, Specialist Judge, Technology and Construction Court

Sampling—cost saving innovation or another reason for inter-party strife? A quantum expert's perspective

Duncan Hughes-Phillips, CEO Base Quantum Limited

The world's biggest crane, two million lunches and cake for 6,000. Just another day at Hinkley Point C

Stephen Ovenden, Senior Principal Solicitor, HPC & Nuclear Development Legal, EDF Energy

S&T v Grove: Did the Court of Appeal get it wrong? The unanswered questions

Andrew Kearney, Barrister, Mediator, Adjudicator, Chartered Arbitrator

Friday, 24th January 2020

3.00

Coffee and Registration

Burges Salmon,

3.30

Conference begins

One Glass Wharf, Bristol,

4.45

Coffee Break

BS2 0ZX

6.30

Refreshments and Networking

7.30

Conference ends

Register

St John's
CHAMBERS

Conference Chair: Rachel Ansell QC, Chair of TECBAR

Rachel was awarded Construction Silk of the Year at the Chambers UK Bar Awards 2017.

Recommended in Legal 500, Chambers & Partners and Chambers Global for construction, International arbitration, professional negligence and property damage. Rachel's large international arbitration practice focuses on large scale energy, construction and engineering disputes across the globe and particularly in the Middle East.

HHJ Russen QC, Specialist Judge, Technology and Construction Court

Jonathan Russen was called to the Bar in 1986 and practised from chambers in Lincoln's Inn for almost thirty years in the field of chancery and commercial litigation, the last twenty of them from Maitland Chambers. He took silk in 2010. His practice extended to overseas litigation (and calls to the Bar in offshore jurisdictions) and to advisory work. He was appointed a specialist civil circuit judge (commercial) in October 2017, and assigned to the Western Circuit at Bristol. He is authorised also for chancery and technology and construction court work. He is the author of Financial Services: a Litigator's Guide and a contributor to Civil Fraud: Law, Practice and Procedure.

Duncan Hughes-Phillips, CEO Base Quantum Limited

Duncan Hughes-Phillips is the CEO and founder of Base Quantum Limited, a Chartered Quantity Surveying Firm and Forensic Expert Witness practice. Duncan has nearly 30 years' experience in the construction, insurance, oil and gas, petro-chemical, process and civil engineering sectors; he accepts instructions as a quantum expert on matters ranging from less than £10,000 up to over £250m in value, and has worked in Europe, Asia, Africa, North America, South America and Australasia. Duncan has prepared quantum analysis and testified on numerous international, high-profile Arbitrations and also small domestic matters. He is recognised in Who's Who Legal as a Future Leader of the Industry. Duncan is also an MBA graduate, and alumni of Imperial College, London.

Stephen Ovenden, Senior Principal Solicitor, HPC & Nuclear Development Legal, EDF Energy

Steve is an experienced construction and engineering lawyer having worked on large and small projects all over the world. Steve spent most of his career in private practice with Pinsent Masons before joining EDF Energy to work on the Hinkley Point C and Sizewell C New Nuclear schemes, projects which Steve has worked on since 2013. The HPC & Nuclear Development Legal team is responsible for delivering or procuring all legal advice on these landmark infrastructure schemes, from planning and land acquisition, finance, construction and the myriad of interfaces with a complex range of government, national and international stakeholders.

Andrew Kearney, Head of Construction & Engineering, St John's Chambers

Andrew is a barrister, a TeCSA and TECBAR adjudicator, Chartered Arbitrator and accredited Civil Mediator and a member of the TECBAR Committee. After 15 years as a Solicitor he was called to the Bar 13 years ago. An accredited Adjudicator since the early days (2001) he has broad experience as Adjudicator, Adjudicator appointed advisor, party representative and as advocate in Part 8 and enforcement proceedings. His recent work includes DIAC arbitration in Dubai, ICC arbitration concerning an Omani project, UK arbitration concerning an energy facility, as Adjudicator in disputes ranging from £80K to £8m, and as Mediator in substantial multi day multi party construction disputes.

No charge for attendance but booking essential. Click to book your place.

